I apply to sit the examination for which I have been booked today and for the associated certification upon achieving a pass in a relevant examination. I confirm that I will comply with the Terms and Conditions of certification as summarised with this form.

I confirm that the information I have given on this form is correct and that I understand and agree to the use of my personal details described within the criteria for certification.

Group Limited as UGC's TIL accreditor for their information purposes only. In instances where a candidate wishes to sit an examination with another EI and have sat the lower level with APMG, we will confirm if they have passed the exam and their candidate number to that EI so they may verify the pre-requisite has been met and the candidate can continue with their examination.

APMG will also hold a publicly available list of the candidate number, date of exam and candidate name for all successful candidates for purposes of result verification requests from employers and candidates themselves. If you pass the examination then this information will be added to our website- subject to your permission being given under section D- though other than this stated use, all personal data provided by you and details of your examination score will be held in confidence by APMG and will only be used to develop and improve its accredited training and examination processes. In no circumstances will APMG or The APM Group Limited either sell or pass on contact details to a third party. The name and candidate number of successful candidates will be posted on the APMG website at www.apmg.co.uk approximately 2-3 weeks after their release to training organisations and candidates. APMG will not be held liable should the website be incomplete. Please contact APMG should you think any records are incomplete.

Release by a training organisation of examination results to a candidate's employer is a matter for agreement between the candidate and the training organisation concerned.

Appeals

If the examinations are taken through an ATO

Extenuating circumstances during the examination, e.g. unacceptable noise outside the examination room can, if supported by the invigilator concerned, be cited as grounds for appeal against an adverse examination result. In the absence of extenuating circumstances, an appeal against an examination result will only be considered if supported by the ATO who provided training in advance of the examination. The decision of the Examination Appeals Panel is final. Appeals will be processed via your ATO who should be contacted for further information.

If the examinations are taken at a open centre

In the absence of extenuating circumstances listed above, an appeal against an examination result will only be considered if supported by The APM Group Ltd. The decision of the Examination Appeals Panel is final. Appeals will be processed via APMG Public Exams Team who should be contacted for further information.
